

The Indiana Telephone Privacy law has provided welcome relief from multiple / daily / unwanted solicitations. The Indiana Telephone Privacy act is therefore much appreciated by my family and all who have chosen to use it. The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen the protections of the Indiana Telephone Privacy law. As a public, we are continuously bombarded by solicitations for unwanted product or services at every turn in our daily lives, but should be able to eliminate them in our homes, at our choice, without having to disconnect the telephone, which we all view as a vital link to our families and emergency services.

Thank You for your considerations,
Loren Puck
